MOOD: 😞 hypoglycemic

MUSIC: Can I get fries with that nausea, confusion, and a shake?

It's just when you think you have something licked that it comes back and bites you on the ass.

Sorry,  trollcatz (<https://trollcatz.livejournal.com/>). I guess that last sprint was the straw that etcetera.

I will do better next time.

Hey! You did do better this time.

No kicking yourself. It's not you. It's your glycemic threshold.

Maybe I can get a reverse insulin pump. Clips to my belt, subcutaneously pumps sugar water into me through a cannula.

Hate hate hate. Feel stupid. And...exposed. Do not want.

Dude. Sugar crashes happen to everyone. Not just you. How long has it been since the last time?

And you pointed to the juice machine and made room spinny motions with your other hand, right?

It's all good.

would it be useful to carry packets of sugar, either to dissolve on your tongue or in bottles/glasses of water?

Hard candies are the usual solution (and no risk of embarrassing sugar-packet failure!). But I go through them like a Hummer through a gallon of premium.

I don't get the hypoglycemic thing that often, really; usually the system keeps the sugar balanced, and I end up just a quart low overall. But I hate it when it happens.

Hmmmm... you should try the sweet tea in Georgia. I swear they use the extra in hummingbird feeders. (Just imagine an over-caffinated hummingbird...)

Bwahh. Fall down? Not? Ick?

Bodies are very stupid to want to hurl when what they need is to take on food.

My phone battery croaked. I think. Possibly from the transformer shorting out while it was plugged in, and hello, are we ever going to get the power back on? Because the charge on my laptop isn't going to last forever.

I can't believe I fell asleep and missed another frikkin meal.

You had me a little worried.

Come to my room. There's something in the mini fridge you should see. It's, er, evidence. That needs to be disposed of. Yeah.

 cvillette

April 12 2008, 04:35:01 UTC COLLAPSE

We don't dispose of evidence. We thoroughly examine it. Using all our senses. I shall, um, listen to the evidence.

(Thank you. You are bestest. Now if my flashlight batteries last, I can find the door and the hall and stuff.)

(Has anybody seen the Cowboy since earlier?)

Wabbit, you still up?

Hotel power is out, and wireless is down. It looks like the whole block is out, but we're on an open network from someplace. Can you figure out where this is coming from?

 trollcatz

April 12 2008, 04:48:52 UTC COLLAPSE

Ho, ho--found cellphone in dark. Call me if you're up!

Hmmm. Doesn't seem to be anything creepy about the wifi. You guys should be getting two or three pretty weak signals--I'll call. Save your laptop batteries.
